

The 'Role Type' admin control panel:

is for surveying new members when they create accounts. Unlike 'Roles' they do not affect what members can do on the exchange.

When role types are enabled a new member is asked to choose a role type when creating an account. You control the options that the user chooses from in this control panel.

Statistics are compiled in the statistics admin panel under 'Member by Role Type.'

How Role Types display

Once the user clicks on the radio button next to the role type, a drop down bar appears with examples below it. (You chose if you would like to display examples for each role type.)

*Role Type:

Examples of Role Types:
Producer: Pork farmer, Beef farmer, Wheat farmer
Charity: Food Bank, Shelter, Church
Consumer: Individual, Retail, Institution

We suggest that you add an 'Other' for each role type, just in case the user does not fit into any of the options you have provided for them.

Show examples on 'Create Account' page.

Examples:

When you click on the examples checkbox above, the role type name and the examples you enter will show on the 'Create Account' page.

When this checkbox is ticked here...

Note:

If you click on the 'Enable this role type on Create Account page' checkbox when adding a new role type, the [Enable/Disable] button will display [Disable], which means it is enabled (or displayed) on the 'Create Account' page.

You may enable or disable role types at anytime by either:

- 1) using the [Enable/Disable] button
- or
- 2) by clicking [Edit] next to a role type and checking or unchecking the 'Enable this role type...' checkbox.

Step 4:

You may enable/disable, edit and delete role types here.

A note on deleting and/or transferring Role Types

If you try to delete a Role Type that already has members listed in it, you will see the following:

Delete Role Type

Home / Admin / Role Types / Delete Role Type

You are about to delete the Consumer Role Type: 'Other'.

There are members listed under this role type. To prevent problems with missing data, you cannot delete this role type until you transfer these members to a different role type.

*Transfer users to:

TIP: You can disable the role type without deleting it. When the role type is disabled, it will no longer be displayed when members create accounts. To disable this role type, click [Cancel] and disable the role type on the previous page.

Cancel

Remove

Basically you have two options:

1) Transfer the members to another role type and delete the role type (which is done by choosing from the drop-down list and then clicking [Remove] (shown above).

or

2) Simply press [Cancel] and disable the Role Type which will no longer display on the 'Create Account' page and will keep the data intact.
